

Congratulations!

This book is yours to take home.

When you've finished reading, please leave the book, preferably enclosed in plastic, with this note for others to enjoy. We think a bench – at the shops, at an oval, in a park, at a bus stop – is the ideal spot.

We also think that books are meant to be “lived in” so feel free to record your thoughts for future readers (we suggest on the inside front or back cover) but no spoilers please!

We love to see photos of happy readers and book discoverers. 😊 If you've found one of our books, please tag @thebookbenchproject on Instagram or Facebook for reposts/shares. Check out the Big Ideas Press website for book bench and other news or to provide feedback.
